Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members Fort William First Nation

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Fort William First Nation, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at March 31, 2017, and the consolidated statements of operations and surplus, consolidated change in net financial assets and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

The Summary of Significant Accounting Policies describes the capital asset policy with respect to the First Nation's capital assets. For fiscal years commencing on or after January 1, 2009, Section 3150, Tangible Capital Assets, of the Public Sector Accounting Board Handbook requires that capital assets be capitalized and amortized over their estimated useful lives. The First Nation has not fully adopted these recommendations. Although the First Nation has recognized certain tangible capital assets and amortization as of the date of consolidated financial statement preparation, the First Nation has not gathered the necessary information to be in a position to recognize and disclose a complete inventory of any of its major classes of tangible capital assets. As a result, we have been unable to obtain sufficient audit evidence to form an opinion with respect to the possible amount of such assets.

As more fully described in Note 15 to the consolidated financial statements, management has excluded the current year and prior years' property tax liabilities in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. Failure to include the taxes as a current liability is not in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. Had the liabilities been recorded the consolidated excess of revenue over expenditures for the year would have decreased by $695,798, capital assets would have been increased by $1,188,553, accounts payable would have been increased by $5,708,552, disputed property taxes receivable would have been decreased by $8,852,811 and the consolidated accumulated surplus would have been decreased by $14,561,363.

In addition, the First Nation has not included disclosure of budget information as required by Canadian generally accepted accounting principles because consolidated budgets were not prepared.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraphs, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Fort William First Nation as at March 31, 2017 and the consolidated results of operations and surplus, consolidated change in net financial assets and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

1. Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

| Revenue Recognition | Revenues are recognized in the period in which the transactions or events occurred that gave rise to the revenues. All revenues are recorded on an accrual basis, except when the accruals cannot be determined with a reasonable degree of certainty or when their estimation is impracticable. Government transfers are recognized as revenues when the transfer is authorized and any eligibility criteria are met, except to the extent that transfer stipulations give rise to an obligation that meets the definition of a liability. Transfers are recognized as deferred revenue when transfer stipulations give rise to a liability. Transfer revenue is recognized in the statement of operations as the stipulation liabilities are settled. Contributions from other sources are deferred when restrictions are placed on their use by the contributor, and are recognized as revenue when used for the specific purpose. Revenue related to fees or services received in advance of the fee being earned or the service is performed is deferred and recognized when the fee is earned or service performed. |
| Replacement Reserves | Under the terms of agreements with Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the Replacement Reserve for housing is to be credited in varying amounts annually until it accumulates to a maximum amount plus accumulated interest. These funds along with accumulated interest, must be held in separate bank accounts and may only be used as approved by Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation. |
| Use of Estimates | The preparation of consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reported period. Actual results could differ from management's best estimates as additional information becomes available in the future. |
| Fund Accounting | The First Nation records accounting transactions using the fund accounting method generally in use for non-profit organizations. A fund is determined for the purpose of carrying on specific activities or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions or limitations. The various funds have been amalgamated for the purpose of presentation in the consolidated financial statements. |

11. Youth Trust Accounts

As part of the Specific Claim Housing Trust, Loch Lomond and Neebing agreements, all members of Fort William First Nation on the voting day for each respective claim were entitled to receive one time "per capita" payments. All members alive but under the age of 18 on the voting day for each respective claim are not entitled to receive this payment until they reach the age of 18. The Trust has established individual interest-bearing trust bank accounts with the RBC Royal Bank for each member under 18. Once members reach the age of 18, they are entitled to receive the "per capita" payments plus interest that has accrued in their trust bank accounts. For those members under the age of 18, this one time payment was deposited into the pre-existing individual interest bearing trust accounts with the Royal Bank of Canada.

As part of the Boundary Claim Settlement Trust there was a one time "per capita" distribution to members of $25,000. For those members who were under the age of 18 at the date of the distribution, these monies are held by the Fort William First Nation Boundary Claim Settlement Trust until such time as the member reaches the age of 18. These monies will be distributed to the members as they achieve the age of 18 at the principal amount plus interest calculated at the bank rate plus one percent. These amounts owing to members under the age of 18 are not included in the Youth Trust Account balance above.

As part of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Claim Settlement, a one time "per capita" distribution of $35,000 per member was declared. For those members who were under the age of 18 at the date of the declaration, these monies are to be held in trust by Fort William First Nation until such time as the member reaches the age of 18. At that time, the $35,000 distribution is to be paid to each of the minors. At the conclusion of eighteen years from the date of settlement, all investment income earned by the First Nation, net of any holding costs, are to be distributed to the minors on a pro-rata basis calculated based on the time that their monies were held in trust.

14. Contingent Liabilities

In 1999 the Corporation of the City of Thunder Bay returned approximately 1,100 acres of land that had previously been expropriated in 1905 to Fort William First Nation. Since that time, the City of Thunder Bay has been assessing municipal property taxes on the returned lands. As of March 31, 2017, property taxes owing to the Corporation of the City of Thunder Bay, including interest and penalties, amounted to $5,708,552 (2016 - $5,488,587). This amount continues to increase with all subsequent tax assessments, as well as, with interest and penalties accruing monthly.

The First Nation is disputing the taxes charged, as management does not believe the lands have ever left reserve status, and as such, are not subject to municipal taxation.

In 2004, the First Nation applied for an interlocutory injunction to restrain the City of Thunder Bay from collecting unpaid taxes until such time as a decision is rendered regarding the status of the lands; however the court ruled against the injunction.

Had the above mentioned liabilities been recorded, the balances in these consolidated financial statements would have changed as follows:

|---|----------------------|
| Consolidated statement of operations | |
| Excess of revenue over expenditures for the year | $ 17,016,474 |

| Tenants' payments applied against payable in excess of payable recorded | (8,852,811) |
| Adjusted disputed property taxes receivable balance | $ - |

The First Nation is a party to a claim relating to the band member listing. The First Nation does not expect the resolution of this matter to have any material adverse effect on the financial position or results of operations of the First Nation. No provision has been provided for in these financial statements as the outcome and measurement are uncertain. Any liability that may be incurred related to this matter will be expensed in the year that it becomes determinable.
