IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR PHARMACY PROVIDERS

Non-Insured Health Benefits Program: Coverage of Alternatives to Similac Alimentum Infant Formula

Due to the temporary closure of a large manufacturing plant in the United States, there is currently a shortage of Similac Alimentum infant formula in Canada. Listed alternatives include Nutramigen, Neocate, Pregestimil, and Puramino infant formulas. To access these alternatives, pharmacy providers must call the NIHB Drug Exception Centre at 1-800-580-0950.

The Non Insured Health Benefits (NIHB) program provides coverage of multiple types of infant formula for medical reasons for infants up to one year of gestational age. Eligible products and criteria can be found in the Drug Benefit List located on the Express Scripts Canada NIHB Provider and Client Website at nihb-ssna.express-scripts.ca/en > provider > pharmacy > drug benefit list.

PRO BONO STUDENTS CANADA INDIGENOUS HUMAN RIGHTS CLINIC

This document was created by PBSC for service providers that may wish to make referrals to the Indigenous Human Rights Clinic. Please do not distribute or share this document publicly.

WHO WE ARE AND WHAT WE DO

Pro Bono Students Canada (PBSC) and the Ontario Federation of Indigenous Friendship Centres (OFIFC) launched the Indigenous Human Rights Program in September 2020. PBSC is a law student organization that provides free legal services in partnership with community organizations. The OFIFC is a provincial Indigenous organization representing the collective interests of 29 member Friendship Centres located in towns and cities throughout Ontario.

The purpose of the Indigenous Human Rights Program is to combat anti-Indigenous racism and discrimination in Ontario by providing free human rights legal services at Friendship Centres. Through our free Indigenous Human Rights Clinics, we provide free summary legal advice and legal information about human rights, including at the Thunder Bay Indigenous Friendship Centre (TBIFC).

The Indigenous Human Rights Program is guided by an Advisory Council and two Elders. It is supported by other program partners the Canadian Human Rights Commission, the Ontario Human Rights Commission, the Human Rights Legal Support Centre, McCarthy Tétrault LLP, and participating law schools, including the Bora Laskin Faculty of Law.

ELIGIBILITY FOR LEGAL SERVICES

Clients are eligible for legal services if they:

1. Self-identify as Indigenous, and
2. Live in Thunder Bay, and
3. Believe they have been discriminated against and seek summary (basic) legal advice, OR
4. Want to learn more about discrimination and/or human rights from a lawyer.

LEGAL SERVICES

Our legal services complement the many social, cultural, and other services already provided by TBIFC. All our lawyers and law students are trained by the OFIFC in their Indigenous Cultural Competency Training program. We provide the following services:

SUMMARY LEGAL ADVICE

We give summary advice under the Human Rights Code and the Canadian Human Rights Act to anyone that meets our eligibility criteria, no matter the human rights ground. For example:

- If an Indigenous person believes that they have been discriminated against in employment due to disability, they can get advice at the Clinic.

- If an Indigenous person believes that they have been discriminated against at a hospital due to their Indigeneity, they can get advice at the Clinic.

Summary advice may include basic advice about:

- Human rights under Canadian law;
- Discrimination under Canadian law;
- The legal options that may be available in the federal or provincial human rights systems;
- Advice on next steps, including referrals.

LEGAL INFORMATION

We meet one-on-one with anyone that meets our eligibility criteria to share information about human rights. These "legal information consultations" are informal and conversational, and are for anyone that wants to learn more about human rights.

Legal information consultations are designed to:

- Build individuals' knowledge about discrimination and human rights;
- Empower individuals to:
 - Make decisions about their own human rights,
 - Protect themselves,
 - Support others,
 - Spot discrimination, and
 - Make referrals to the Clinic.

Information may include:

- The human rights systems in Ontario and Canada;
- Social areas and grounds;
- The test for discrimination and harassment, and examples;
- The process for filing a human rights complaint and going through the commission or tribunal processes;
- Limitation periods;
- Examples of cases brought by Indigenous people to human rights tribunals across Canada.

REFERRALS

Before or after providing summary legal advice, we try to make meaningful referrals for Clients. We work closely with the Human Rights Legal Support Centre's Indigenous Service and Outreach Committee to refer individuals to the HRLSC.

INDIGENOUS HUMAN RIGHTS PODCAST

Outside of the Clinic, we build knowledge about Indigenous human rights amongst the broader Canadian public through our Indigenous Human Rights Podcast, which shines a light on the real experiences of Indigenous people who have fought for their human rights at Tribunals across Canada. We invite you to listen to this podcast, and to share it with others.

Increase in Drug Activity In the community of FWFN

We are experiencing increased concern and anonymous complaints from our community in regards to the amount of drug trafficking and activity on our first nations. Members are tired of the amount of crime, overdoses and traffic that are believed to be associated with the drug trafficking that is taking place in our community. Be part of the solution, if you see suspicious activity call the number provided.

The Thunder Bay Police Service has formally launched a new program that aims to give residents the tools and information that they need to help police in ongoing investigations into the drug trade.

Police say drug trafficking targets some of the most vulnerable in the community, leading to increased violent crime and creating serious safety risks in and around the neighbourhoods in which they operate.

If you are suspecting of drug activity and trafficking taking place in your community you can contact the Thunder Bay police service and submit anonymously information to the non-emergency line at (807)684-1200, or you can submit tips through Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-8477, or online at www.p3tips.com

Community Drug Alert

NITAZENES

What Are Nitazenes?

- > Nitazenes are potent synthetic opioids from a drug class known as benzimidazole-opioids
- > some nitazenes are estimated to be several times more potent than fentanyl
- > They were developed 60 years ago as potential pain relief medication, but were never approved for clinical use.
- > They were first identified in the unregulated drug supply in Canada in 2019
- > They typically appear unexpectedly in drugs expected to contain other, more traditional opioids (e.g. fentanyl, oxycodone tablets or “down “often alongside non-medical benzodiazepines (NMBs)

Why They Are a Concern?

- The presence of nitazenes in the unregulated drug supply is rising. The frequency with which they are detected is increasing, but there is also an increasing number of nitazene analogs.
- They tend to be used unintentionally and in unknown quantities because the contents of drugs from the unregulated supply are unpredictable.
- Nitazenes can increase the risk of accidental overdose, especially when combined with other substances that suppress breathing and heart rate such as other opioids or benzodiazepines.

- Overdoses involving nitazenes may be difficult to reverse, potentially requiring additional doses of naloxone, but protocols around this are not yet clear.
- Fentanyl test strips cannot detect nitazenes, and detection of nitazenes by point-of-service drug checking requires sensitive equipment that is not always available.
- Nitazenes are not routinely tested for in post-mortem or urine toxicology, so their relationship to health risks and overdose deaths is difficult to monitor.

If you or someone you know is experiencing a overdose please call 911

If available, administer Naloxone and wait for help to arrive

Outdoor Yoga

A silhouette of a person in a yoga pose, specifically a variation of the Pigeon Pose (Eka Pada Pigeon), is shown against a warm, golden sunset background. The person's right leg is bent and tucked under their left leg, while their left leg is extended forward. Their right arm is reaching up towards the word 'Yoga' in the title, and their left hand is resting on their right thigh. The overall scene is peaceful and evokes a sense of outdoor wellness.

Come join us for some outdoor yoga on Mount Mckay!

Walk with Doc is Back!

For 19 years, Northern Hearts, a local non-profit organization has been organizing a "Walk with Doc" program during the month of June to encourage healthy and active lifestyles for participants. Walkers are invited to attend for an opportunity to enjoy a social walk with local doctors to discuss their health and get some exercise.

- The Walk with Doc program will run throughout the month of June (6-30th).
- Monday to Thursday, 7-8:30pm @ Marina Park (Celebration Circle – see map)
- It will include all of the elements that make the Walk with Doc program a success, such as physician participation, daily walks, and chances to win a weekly prize!
- Please come out and enjoy some social walking with physicians, local organizations, and other community members. Registration is not required.

It is important to note that COVID-19 is still very present in the community and to make this event as safe as possible, we ask that you self-screen when you come to the event and wear your mask when gathered together before the Walk begins. For those uncomfortable with participating in an in-person event, or cannot make the Walk evenings, a virtual walk, similar to previous years will take place over virtual platforms (Facebook and Email) where participants can comment and post pictures featuring the walk they went on.

Northern Hearts mission is to provide the public with educational resources and heart healthy programs to reduce the impact of heart disease in NWO. It is with hope that the Walk with Doc program will encourage active participation and spread awareness of the physical and emotional benefits of exercise.

Please contact Kayla Waddington, Program Coordinator if you have any questions, at kcwaddin@lakeheadu.ca or 807-630-3117
