FIRE SAFETY FOR OLDER ADULTS

Be prepared for fire

Know exactly what to do and where to go if there is a fire. Plan Your Escape! Make a home escape plan or refer to your building's fire safety plan.

Working Smoke Alarms Save Lives

Install Working Smoke Alarms in every bedroom, outside each sleeping area, and on every level of the home (including the basement). Every month, test all the smoke alarms by using a broom handle or cane to gently push the alarm test button. Make sure everyone can hear the smoke alarms from all areas of your home.

If you smoke...

Use large, deep ashtrays and always make sure your cigarette butts are out. Never smoke when you are lying down, if you are drowsy, or in bed.

Don't reach for danger!

Wear tight-fitting or rolled-up sleeves when cooking and don't reach over a hot burner. If a pot catches fire, cover it with a lid and turn off the burner. Never leave your cooking unattended.

If your clothing catches fire...

Lower yourself to the ground, cover your face with your hands and roll over and over to put out the flames. If you can't do this, grab a towel or blanket and smother the flames.

Crawl low under Smoke

Most fire victims die from smoke, not flames. Smoke always rises, so you must get down on the floor where the air is cleaner. Crawl on our hands and knees to safety.

Give space heaters space

Keep them at least 1 metre (3 feet) away from everything -- including you. A slight brush against a heater could set your clothing on fire.

Need assistance?

If you would like help to test your smoke alarms or to prepare a fire safety plan, talk to your friends, family or home support worker. There is help available within your community. If you have any questions about fire safety, your fire department will be pleased to assist you.

PRO BONO STUDENTS CANADA INDIGENOUS HUMAN RIGHTS CLINIC

This document was created by PBSC for service providers that may wish to make referrals to the Indigenous Human Rights Clinic. Please do not distribute or share this document publicly.

WHO WE ARE AND WHAT WE DO

Pro Bono Students Canada (PBSC) and the Ontario Federation of Indigenous Friendship Centres (OFIFC) launched the Indigenous Human Rights Program in September 2020. PBSC is a law student organization that provides free legal services in partnership with community organizations. The OFIFC is a provincial Indigenous organization representing the collective interests of 29 member Friendship Centres located in towns and cities throughout Ontario.

The purpose of the Indigenous Human Rights Program is to combat anti-Indigenous racism and discrimination in Ontario by providing free human rights legal services at Friendship Centres. Through our free Indigenous Human Rights Clinics, we provide free summary legal advice and legal information about human rights, including at the Thunder Bay Indigenous Friendship Centre (TBIFC).

The Indigenous Human Rights Program is guided by an Advisory Council and two Elders. It is supported by other program partners the Canadian Human Rights Commission, the Ontario Human Rights Commission, the Human Rights Legal Support Centre, McCarthy Tétrault LLP, and participating law schools, including the Bora Laskin Faculty of Law.

ELIGIBILITY FOR LEGAL SERVICES

Clients are eligible for legal services if they:

- 1. Self-identify as Indigenous, and
- 2. Live in Thunder Bay, and
- 3. Believe they have been discriminated against and seek summary (basic) legal advice, OR
- 4. Want to learn more about discrimination and/or human rights from a lawyer.

LEGAL SERVICES

Our legal services complement the many social, cultural, and other services already provided by TBIFC. All our lawyers and law students are trained by the OFIFC in their Indigenous Cultural Competency Training program. We provide the following services:

SUMMARY LEGAL ADVICE

We give summary advice under the Human Rights Code and the Canadian Human Rights Act to anyone that meets our eligibility criteria, no matter the human rights ground. For example:

 If an Indigenous person believes that they have been discriminated against in employment due to disability, they can get advice at the Clinic.

 If an Indigenous person believes that they have been discriminated against at a hospital due to their Indigeneity, they can get advice at the Clinic.

Summary advice may include basic advice about:

- · Human rights under Canadian law;
- Discrimination under Canadian law:
- . The legal options that may be available in the federal or provincial human rights systems;
- · Advice on next steps, including referrals.

LEGAL INFORMATION

We meet one-on-one with anyone that meets our eligibility criteria to share information about human rights. These "legal information consultations" are informal and conversational, and are for anyone that wants to learn more about human rights.

Legal information consultations are designed to:

- · Build individuals' knowledge about discrimination and human rights;
- Empower individuals to:
 - Make decisions about their own human rights,
 - Protect themselves,
 - Support others.
 - o Spot discrimination, and
 - Make referrals to the Clinic.

Information may include:

- The human rights systems in Ontario and Canada;
- Social areas and grounds;
- The test for discrimination and harassment, and examples:
- The process for filing a human rights complaint and going through the commission or tribunal processes;
- Limitation periods:
- Examples of cases brought by Indigenous people to human rights tribunals across Canada.

REFERRALS

Before or after providing summary legal advice, we try to make meaningful referrals for Clients. We work closely with the Human Rights Legal Support Centre's Indigenous Service and Outreach Committee to refer individuals to the HRLSC.

INDIGENOUS HUMAN RIGHTS PODCAST

Outside of the Clinic, we build knowledge about Indigenous human rights amongst the broader Canadian public through our Indigenous Human Rights Podcast, which shines a light on the real experiences of Indigenous people who have fought for their human rights at Tribunals across Canada. We invite you to listen to this podcast, and to share it with others.

Increase in Drug Activity In the community of FWFN

We are experiencing increased concern and anonymous complaints from our community in regards to the amount of drug trafficking and activity on our first nations. Members are tired of the amount of crime, overdoses and traffic that are believed to be associated with the drug trafficking that is taking place in our community. Be part of the solution, if you see suspicious activity call the number provided.

The Thunder Bay Police Service has formally launched a new program that aims to give residents the tools and information that they need to help police in ongoing investigations into the drug trade.

Police say drug trafficking targets some of the most vulnerable in the community, leading to increased violent crime and creating serious safety risks in and around the neighbourhoods in which they operate.

If you are suspecting of drug activity and trafficking taking place in your community you can contact the Thunder Bay police service and submit anonymously information to the non-emergency line at (807)684-1200, or you can submit tips through Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-8477, or online at www.p3tips.com

Community Drug Alert

NITAZENES

What Are Nitazenes?

- > Nitazenes are potent synthetic opioids from a drug class known as benzimidazole-opioids
- >some nitazenes are estimated to be several times more potent than fentanyl
- > They were developed 60 years ago as potential pain relief medication, but were never approved for clinical use.
- > They were first identified in the unregulated drug supply in Canada in 2019
- > They typically appear unexpectedly in drugs expected to contain other, more traditional opioids (e.g. fentanyl, oxycodone tablets or "down "often alongside non-medical benzodiazepines (NMBs)

Why They Are a Concern?

- The presence of nitazenes in the unregulated drug supply is rising. The frequency with which they are detected is increasing, but there is also an increasing number of nitazene analogs.
- They tend to be used unintentionally and in unknown quantities because the contents of drugs from the unregulated supply are unpredictable.
- Nitazenes can increase the risk of accidental overdose, especially when combined with other substances that suppress breathing and heart rate such as other opioids or benzodiazepines.

- Overdoses involving nitazenes may be difficult to reverse, potentially requiring additional doses of naloxone, but protocols around this are not yet clear.
- Fentanyl test strips cannot detect nitazenes, and detection of nitazenes by point-of-service drug checking requires sensitive equipment that is not always available.
- Nitazenes are not routinely tested for in post-mortem or urine toxicology, so their relationship to health risks and overdose deaths is difficult to monitor.

If you or someone you know is experiencing a overdose please call 911

If available, administer Naloxone and wait for help to arrive

Thunder Bay Jail

In partnership with SOLGEN Thunder Bay Jail and NILOs

The Thunder Bay Jail has been standing at it's current location since 1926. It has been the site of incarceration for people who have found themselves to be in conflict with the law and justice system. We are calling out to the community for dancers and drummers. Our goal is to come together to dance and drum around the perimeter of the property. This display of support demonstrates community for both inmates and staff. It is time to embrace change. Please join us in this journey to "Heal from the outside in"

We welcome you to join us for this celebration. Please contact Ann Magiskan at 807-633-3192 for more information.

This is a free community event, designed to encourage healthy lifestyles, prevent and manage disease and connect you to resources.
